Philadelphia, PA –April 21, 2011 – Charnelle Hicks, AICP, PP, President of CHPlanning, Ltd., a Philadelphia-based land use, environmental and transportation planning firm, has been invited on behalf of the Mayors' Institute on City Design (MICD), to attend the National Mayors' Summit on City Design from April 27 - 29, 2011 in Chicago, IL.

The National Mayors' Summit on City Design will bring together more than 100 mayors from across the country to:

- Discover and share the latest in urban design thinking;
- Discuss solutions that design offers for urban problems;
- Celebrate 25 years of the Mayors' Institute on City Design; and
- Honor Mayor Richard M. Daley's design legacy.

The summit will provide opportunities for mayoral alumni of MICD, as well as mayors who have not yet participated in MICD, to interact with the leaders of the design field, including past MICD resource team members, government officials and many other thought leaders in urban design.

MICD believes that the mayors of America place great value on their interactions with the country's foremost experts on design issues in our cities.
